June 6th, 2020 - a last stand is a military situation in which a body of troops holds a defensive position in the face of overwhelming odds. The defensive force usually takes very heavy casualties or is completely destroyed. Troops may make a last stand due to a perceived duty because they are defending a tactically crucial point to buy time to enable a trapped army to escape due to fear of execution if captured or to protect their ruler or leader. Last stands loom large in history as the heroism and sacrifice'

June 3rd, 2020 - one of the all-time great stories of war is that of soldiers facing a foe many times their size in fighting strength. One of the first appearances in human history of such a lopsided battle is the battle of Thermopylae where 7,000 Greeks faced off against what is now estimated by historians to have been 100,000 to 150,000 Persians. This is such a prevalent type of war film that I listed it as'
